Diversity Roadmap: Physical Education

Josh Cavallo: an Australian footballer who came out as gay in 2021 at a time when there were no other openly gay male pro footballers in the top flight.

Kōhei Uchimura: a Japanese 7-time Olympic medal-winning artistic Gymnast. Widely considered the best gymnast of all time.

Paula Radcliffe: British long-distance runner who overcame asthma to become one of the fastest female marathon runners ever.

Year 3

Year 4

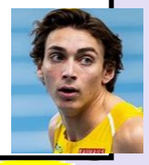

Bear Grylls: a record-breaking British adventurer

B-Boy Lilou: Algerian-French b-boy breakdancer

Armand Duplantis: Swedish-American pole vaulter who holds countless records.

Year 5

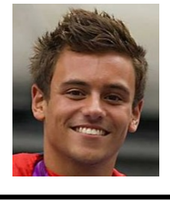

Year 6

Marta: a Brazilian footballer regarded as the greatest female footballer of all time. She is Catholic and engaged to one of her teammates.

Tom Daley: gay British diver who has won Olympic Gold and three World titles.

Arunima Sinha: Indian amputee mountaineer who has climbed the tallest speak on each continent

Mohammed Salah: Egyptian and Muslim footballer who has won the AFCON, Champions League and Premier League

Esther Vergeer: Dutch former professional wheelchair tennis player

Usain Bolt: a retired Jamaican sprinter who won 8 gold medals.

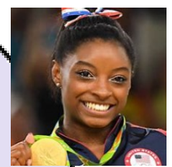

Jeremy Lin: a Taiwanese-American basketball player who was the first Asian-American to play in the NBA.

Jhulan Goswami: an Indian former cricketer widely considered to be one of the best of all time.

Larisa Latynina: a Ukrainian born gymnast who is the most decorated of all time (9 gold medals)

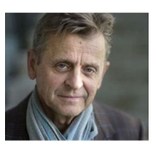

Year 2

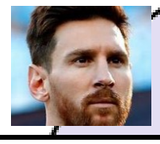

Year 1

Mikhail Baryshnikov: Russian-American classical dancer

Simone Biles: an American artistic gymnast who has won 7 Olympic medals and 25 World championship medals.

Galina Chistyakova: retired Slovakian long and triple jumper who stills holds the world record in the long jump after over 30 years.

Nursery

Lionel Messi: Argentinian football superstar who has won countless trophies, including the World Cup.

Carmen Amaya: a Spanish Romani flamenco danger, widely considered to be the best ever

Florence Joyner: American track and field athlete who has held the 100m sprint world record since 1988.

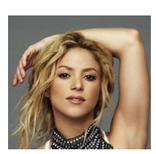

Reception

Portia Woodman: a New Zealand rugby player currently one of the world's best.

Shakira: Colombian singer, songwriter and dancer.

Shang Chunsong: an elite Chinese artistic gymnast

EYFS

ST MARY MAGDALENE & ST STEPHEN'S CE PRIMARY SCHOOL

